Survey Methods & Key Findings

PURPOSE

The intention of the "Power to Grow" survey is to determine whether the local community supports the addition of Urban Agriculture Collective (UAC) farm in Booker T. Washington Park. This survey is also intended to demonstrate whether there is a need for an urban farm to create additional food access in order to present a case to Charlottesville City Council.

METHODS

The majority of surveys were conducted door-to-door by Cultivate Charlottesville Community Advocates from May to June 2023. Neighborhoods surveyed include: Rose Hill, 10th & Page, Venable, Westhaven, Friendship Court, and 6th Street. Additional survey data was collected at UAC Market Days, The Jefferson School Juneteenth celebration, and a few online surveys.

KEY FINDINGS

- The majority of those surveyed believe that fresh produce is not accessible to all Charlottesville residents
- Most residents did not experience challenges in getting fresh produce.
 - Some residents did mention that quality and quantity of produce could be limited due to prohibitive factors such as limit of federal assistance, high cost, lack of transportation, and limited selection in small markets such as Reid's.
- The majority of residents support free and fresh produce to residents of public and affordable housing.
- The majority of residents believe that an Urban Agriculture Collective farm at Washington Park would benefit their community.
